From the Headmaster

The well-being of all our pupils remains a key area of focus.

As we close on another busy Autumn Term at Hendon Preparatory School, my mind is drawn to those positive reflections that fill me with pride in the achievements of our pupils and in the many ways that they are supported by a Common Room of dedicated staff. Three areas stand-out in particular.

Academically, our pupils have responded well to my two half-termly themes: Challenge and Discovery. It is pleasing to note that more and more children are developing the skills necessary to become independent learners. The introduction of our new Virtual Learning Environment called 'Firefly', launched to the whole school after half-term, is beginning to gather momentum and, with time, it will allow pupils even greater opportunities to study at home with the support of parents. More significantly, our older children are already using the 'Firefly' platform to discuss ideas initiated in the classroom, then independently researched in more depth at home and finally shared with their learning communities on-line.

Furthermore, our Mathematicians continued to enjoy success in the Merchant Taylors' School Maths Challenge, the Primary Maths Challenge and the National Young Mathematicians' Award. Public Speaking is equally thriving at Hendon, both in terms of our LAMDA classes and in the highly popular inter-house Debating Competition that has captured the minds of many pupils who have had the opportunity to craft persuasive arguments to debate in a competitive forum.

Secondly, the well-being of all our pupils remains a key area of focus at Hendon Prep. I am delighted that this term's Safeguarding audit coupled with the results of the 'Voice of the Student' survey highlighted that we have an excellent culture of pastoral care at School. Alongside, the many positive recommendations that come from the pupils themselves, via their School Council representatives, we launched, this term, our new Peer Mentoring scheme, utilising the many skills of our senior pupils in Years 6 – 8. Our ambition is always to promote values and characteristics that will enhance the many good qualities that our children already possess, so to enable our pupils to grow into successful adults. Of equal importance, we are ambitious to cultivate a global awareness in our pupils that is linked to charitable service. I am delighted that all four Houses have engaged in much positive work in this regard encouraged by staff. I would also like to thank the many supporters of our Parent Guild, HPPG, for their marvellous philanthropic work. In particular for supporting the Macmillan Coffee Morning, Jeans for Genes Day and Save the Children charities. Finally, I want to acknowledge all the wonderful effort that our pupils put into the dramatic arts, sports and musical events throughout the academic term, especially the Pre-Prep Christmas concert and the end-of-term Carol Service at St Mary's Church, Hendon. These important enrichment activities are not only key for individual character development but also for inspiring our community to recognise that these are all hallmarks of a great education.

I hope you will enjoy reading all the articles and reports of our busy school in our Termly review, and share with me, my pride in this very special place that is Hendon Prep.

New For Autumn:

Peer Mentoring

The Autumn Term also saw the launch of our new Peer Mentoring Scheme. Selected pupils from Years 6, 7 and 8 attended a workshop, presented by the Head of North London Grammar School, Mr Gokce Hakan, on peer mentoring and communications skills. Following this training session each Mentor was assigned a class to support. The scheme aims to promote the ideas of leadership and responsibility for the older children and give younger pupils in the school an extra buddy to talk to.

Pupil Progress Reports

In line with the school's ambition to inform parents more routinely about their child's academic progress, the autumn term saw the introduction of new half termly Pupil Progress Reports. These reports give a quick and effective 'snap-shot' of a child's progress over a five or six week period following the start of each new Term. The aim is not to give a full account of a pupil's progress, as that will be achieved either by a Parents' Consultation Evenings or in the Full Report given at the close of the academic term in December and July.

The introduction of Pupil Progress Reports allows staff to monitor each pupil's progress in key developmental and curriculum areas. For pupils in our Pre-School and Reception we have identified key EYFS (Early Years Foundation Stage) developmental areas to report on. For children in Years 1 – 8, we have focused on: English, Mathematics and Science.

The introduction of the Pupil Progress Reports will enable parents and teachers to work more closely to support a child in their learning journey.

Introducing FireFly

Hendon Prep moved into the digital era this term with the launch of our very own Virtual Learning Environment (VLE), Firefly. Launched in September parents, teachers and senior pupils are already seeing the benefit of enhanced communication. And in the Pre Prep, teachers are finding Firefly an excellent way to give parents a better insight into school life. We're not finished yet though, Firefly is constantly evolving so keep checking back for new features and resources – and look out for the new Firefly App – which will make school / home communication even easier.

If you haven't already signed up please see the School office for further details.

All change in Pre-School

Our Pre-School (formerly Nursery) started the new academic year with a new name, a lovely new Early Years Leader, Mrs Walker, a new classroom layout and a dynamic new curriculum which now includes; tennis, French, ICT, Forest School, classics, dance and art PLUS daily lessons in maths, literacy and pre-reading . The children are simply loving their new busy schedule; as are the parents who collect exhausted but happy children at the end of the day!

Forest School Adventures:

Excited year 4-6 girls entered the forest area of the playground to participate in a forest school session. Led by two teachers from Downe House School, the girls were set a challenge to build a shelter that would keep one person alive in a particular climate. There were four groups and each one was given a graph depicting a different climate. Each group set to work on interpreting their graphs, they needed to work out what the lowest temperature was and how much rain that area experienced. Climates ranged from the Arctic to a desert.

Once they had determined their climate the girls thought about what materials they would need to create their shelter and using materials such as bamboo, bashes, rope and boxes they started building their structures.

If at first you don't succeed try and try again and that's exactly what the girls did. One group even made their shelter three times before deciding on their final one. The girls thought carefully about how their shelter would keep the rain out, how it would keep them warm or how to remain cool in the heat.

The final task was to choose appropriate clothing for their climate. Different types of coats, hats and trousers were put on by the youngest member of the team. Each team explained to the rest of the group why they built the shelter the way they did and what clothes they had chosen.

The girls were then shown what shelters are normally built in those climates and compared them to their own. Everyone was so pleased with their efforts and excited by all the new skills they had learnt.

Today was absolutely fantastic. I am speechless. I can't believe how much fun I had. I am really lucky that I took part. This was a great experience.

I loved today working with different age groups trying to co-operate. It was a brilliant experience that I will never forget. I recommend it to anyone and everyone.

Presentation Skills

Delivering a presentation or talking in front of an audience can be daunting for most adults and so at Hendon Prep we believe that giving children the skills and encouragement to do so from a young age is hugely beneficial. There are many opportunities for our children stand up in front of an audience, whether that be in Circle Time in class, taking part in a school assembly or production or simply presenting some of their work to their classmates.

Hendon Prep's annual 'Topic Talks' also give our children the opportunity to talk in-front of a wider audience. During the autumn term children, from Year 1 upwards, are asked to write a 1 minute speech on the subject of 'Something I like to do', which they then present to the rest of their House. From these talks 2 Juniors and 2 Seniors are selected from each House to go through to the finals.

The finalists presented their talks during a special assembly to the rest of the school and invited parents. All of the finalists should feel very proud of their performance and this year we enjoyed a fantastic variety of subjects including jet skiing, baking cupcakes and going to the gym with mum!

The standard was incredibly high and the judges had a very tough job to do. However in the end they had to make a decision and the winners were; Saachi in Pre Prep who gave a vivid account of how she enjoyed learning about history, in particular Henry VIII and the fate of his wives, and Lin Mei in Senior Prep. A big thank you also to Kian who entertained the audience with his wonderful guitar playing whilst the judges deliberated.

In order to give the children a more regular platform to develop and practice their presentation skills, the autumn term also saw the launch of our popular new Debating Club, run by Miss Miller. During the term the Debating Club held an inter-house competition, which ran every Wednesday lunchtime. Speakers from Year 4 and upwards were invited to argue for and against motions such as 'Sugary snacks should be illegal for those under the age of 15'. The quality of the debates and the speakers improved week on week and we had some outstanding individuals compete for their House. The final took place between Tenterden and Brinsdale, who debated the motion 'Social media does more harm than good'. It was a fantastic debate with strong arguments put forward by both sides; but in the end it was Brinsdale who were victorious, successfully arguing against the motion.

Harvest Festival

Harvest festival is one of the oldest and most traditional British festivals. With its routes in Pagan Britain, today's church celebrations began in Victorian Times when the Reverend Stephen Hawker invited his parishioners to a special harvest thanksgiving service at the church in Morwenstow, Cornwall in 1843.

The Harvest Festival is an opportunity to reflect and be thankful for what we have and to share with others who are not so fortunate. At Hendon Prep we celebrate Harvest Festival by inviting our parents to attend a special assembly. This year the assembly was led by the Reverend Father Gwyn Clement from St Mary's Church in Hendon. The children, from Reception upwards, sang beautifully and Father Gwyn talked to the children and parents about the festival and its significance.

As usual our Hendon Prep families were incredibly generous with their Harvest Festival food donations and we would like to say a huge thank you to everyone who gave their children something to donate, which the Year 8 boys delivered to the charity 'Homeless Action in Barnet'.

Well done to all speakers though, Ansh and Michelle for Brinsdale and Lin Mei and Ami for Tenterden.

Halloween

The beginning of the second half of the term was marked with some spooky Halloween celebrations which began with the hugely popular, annual pumpkin carving competition. The fabulous creations appeared in the front garden during the course of the first two days after half term and were judged by Mr Lloyd-Williams on Tuesday 31st October. The standard was very high this year, which made the role of judging the winners extremely difficult, however Mr Lloyd-Williams did manage to select the following winners:

Rayyan - 2R Owais - PS Natasha - 3G

Ewan - 5D Samal - 4S Marine 5D

The Halloween celebrations continued with the HPPG Halloween Parties which included games, challenges, monsters, witches and other scary creatures!

Flatford Mill

The boys in Year 7 and 8 enjoyed a residential trip in November to support their Common Entrance course work in Geography.

The group stayed at Valley Farm on the Flatford Mill site, which is also the site of Willy Lott's house, the house made famous by the artist John Constable, who featured it in his painting 'The Hay Wain', completed in 1821 (you can see the original painting at the National Gallery in Trafalgar Square, London).

Part of the Valley Farm building dates back to the early 14th Century however, fortunately for the pupils, (and teachers!) the building has been updated for the 21st Century with the addition of heating and plumbing.

To enhance their study of the Norman period of English history, the boys started their trip with a visit to Colchester Castle, with its origins in Roman history. They were fascinated with many of the original artefacts displayed and etchings scratched in the walls, dating back to the 12th century.

On the second day, to complete their field study based on Coastal Erosion, the boys then moved onto Walton on the Naze in Essex ('naze' being the old Saxon word for nose as, before the rapid erosion of the last 700 years, this area resembled the slope of a nose). The pupils used sophisticated surveying equipment to learn about physical geography in a very practical way.

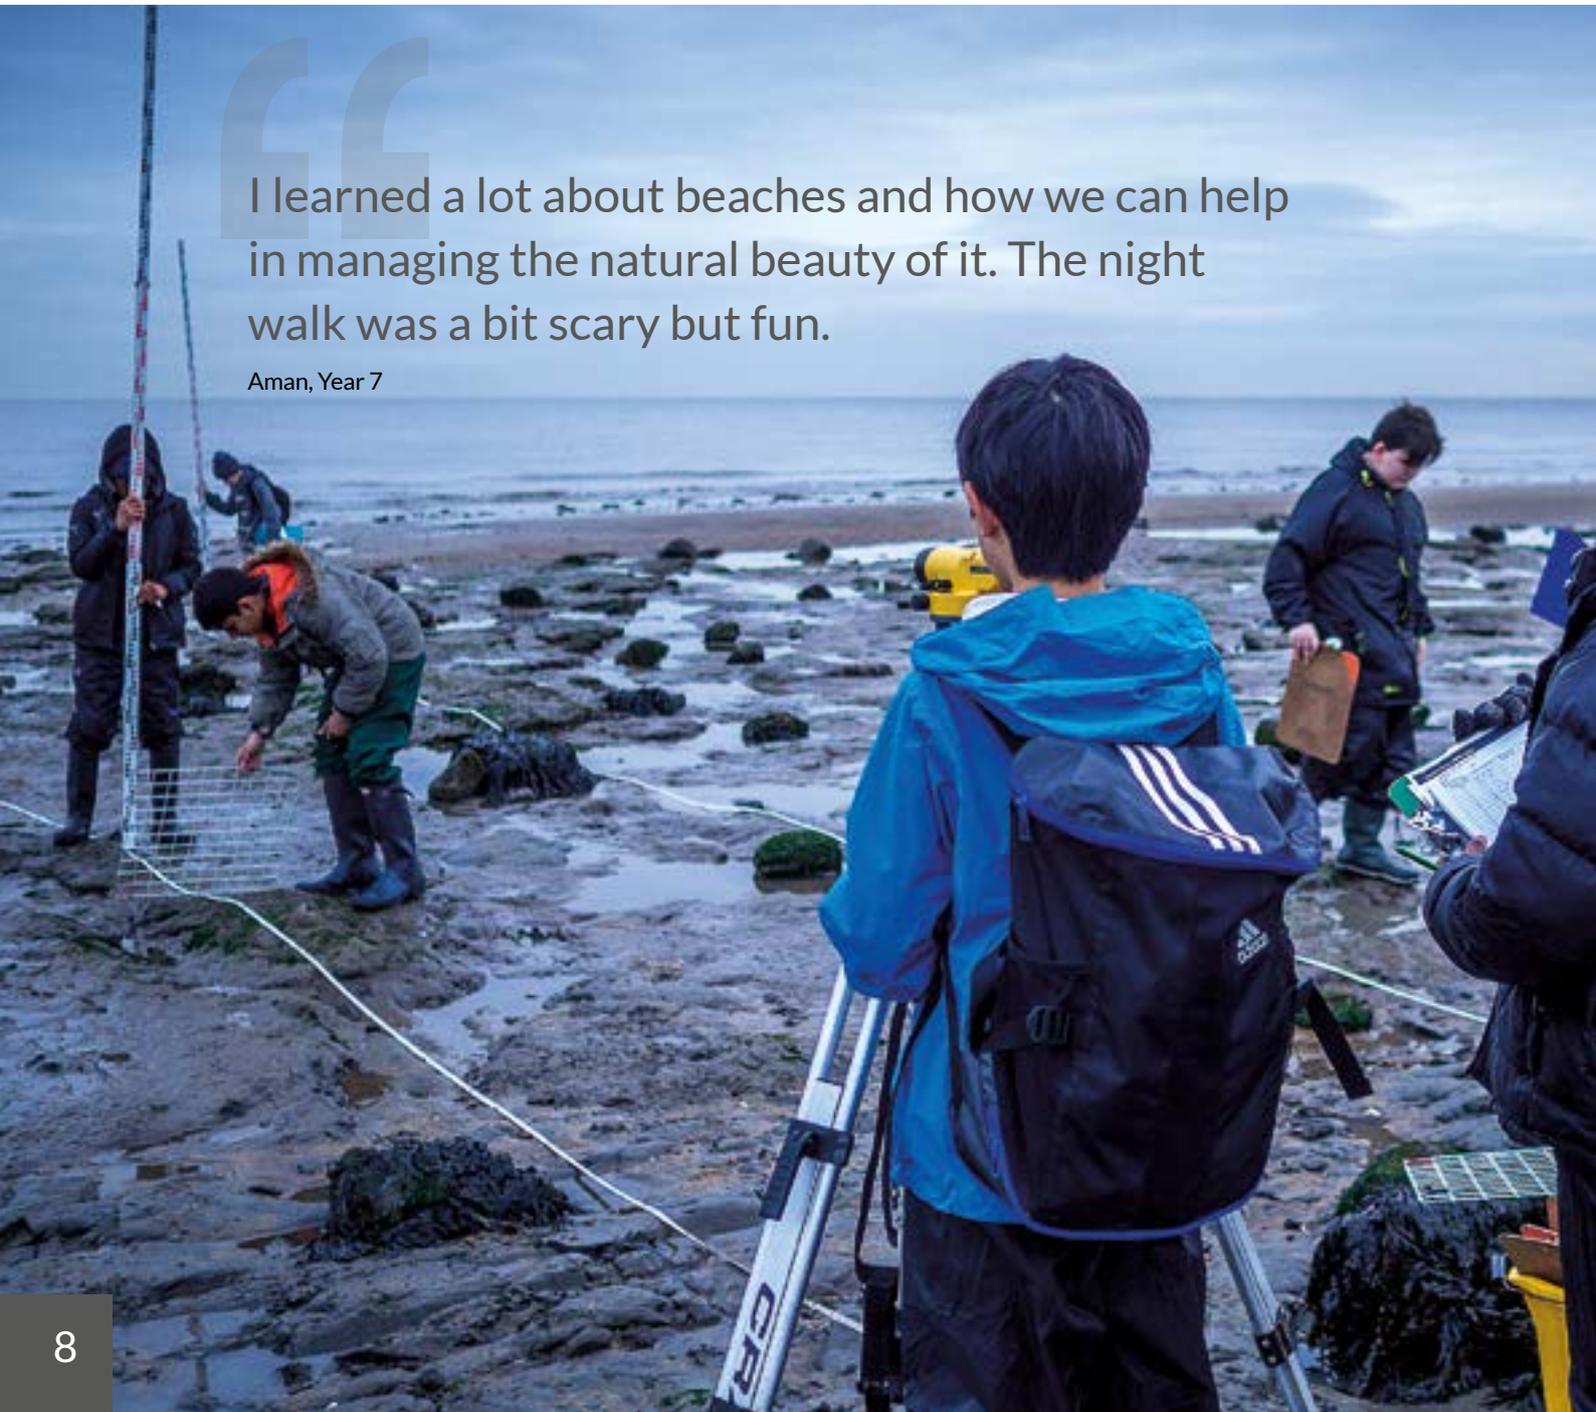

One of the highlights of the trip for everyone was on the final night when they took a night walk through the forest surrounding Flatford Mill. There were no torches so everyone had to rely on sight and hearing to make their way as they walked through the forest linking arms and shoulders as they did so. It is residential trips such as these that can really enhance a child's learning by putting theory into practice – all of the boys, and Mr May and Mr Ortiz, thoroughly enjoyed this trip.

I learned a lot about beaches and how we can help in managing the natural beauty of it. The night walk was a bit scary but fun.

Reception 2018

We have now started the process of enrolling children for Nursery and Reception 2018 places. Whilst siblings are given first consideration for these places we can only do so if we are aware that you need a place, therefore if you are looking for school places in either of these classes please ask for a Registration form from the school office ASAP.

Exam Prep:

The Autumn Term is always a very busy one for Year 6 pupils who will be sitting 11+ entrance examinations in the New Year.

At Hendon Prep, senior school preparation begins from the day a new pupil walks through our door; as we understand that preparing for the senior school transition isn't simply a question of mastering Maths and English – although these are obviously important and so our Year 6 pupils have already had over two terms of after school Maths and English prep, in addition to their weekly lessons!

In the autumn term however we also give our pupils some extra support for upcoming school interviews and this year all of our Year 6-8 pupils were treated to a series of workshops from LAMDA (London Academy of Music & Dramatic Art). By using a range of activities the students were given techniques and ideas to help them come across confidently in school interviews. The workshops were both fun and informative and equipped the children with tools that will serve them well for their next academic chapter and professional life thereafter.

Breakfast club

Children from Reception upwards can join us for a healthy breakfast in the school hall from 7.30am. The children are served a selection of cereals and toast, milk and water. Once they have eaten they start their day with some quizzes and news programmes. A drop in session costs £5 per day however reduced rates are available for pre-booked sessions please see the office for more details.

VISITORS

Hendon Prep is an incredibly busy school and we seem to have a constant stream of visitors to the school who enhance and extend our children's learning. The autumn term was certainly no exception!

Freshwater Theatre & Dr Ziyad visit Year 2

Year 2 thoroughly enjoyed learning all about Florence Nightingale this term; including learning about her contribution to nursing and comparing hospital conditions in the past to those of today. To bring their learning to life Year 2 had a visit from the fabulous Freshwater Theatre Company, who presented their interactive workshop on the life of Florence Nightingale. This was followed by a visit from Dr Ziyad who talked to the children about his life as a doctor today in a large hospital.

The children learned about the importance of hygiene and how Florence Nightingale pioneered cleanliness in hospitals. The whole class thoroughly enjoyed the experience, especially when they got to try their hand at being doctors and learnt how to listen to a heartbeat and take a pulse.

Freshwater Theatre visit Year 1

Year 1 had a fabulous time when the Freshwater Theatre Company brought their Magical Toy Museum into school. The workshop they took part in complemented the work the children had been doing in History this term linked to the topic on Old and New Toys. The museum curator, Clive, took Year 1 around the imaginary museum and the children learned many new facts along the way.

They learnt all about the history of Teddy Bears, including the fact that they were named after Theodore Roosevelt, they looked at a variety of dolls and moving toys and then had to try and invent their perfect toy. The children came up with some fantastic suggestions including dancing princesses, space rockets, fast cars and flying unicorns.

Break time snacks

Pupils are allowed to bring in a healthy snack for morning break however please remember that the school operates a very strict no nut policy. If you would like more information on this please see the school office.

Nutrition Workshop:

The school's caterers, Thomas Franks came back to Hendon Prep this term to re-run their incredibly successful Nutrition & Food Tasting Workshops. The focus of the day was very much on healthy lifestyle and eating a well-balanced and sensible diet. Chef Belinda visited each class from Reception upwards to get the children to think about how they can make healthy food choices using age appropriate interactive games and exercises. The children also got the chance to make some delicious smoothies, fun fruit skewers and interesting veggie shapes.

Explore Learning

Four Hendon Prep pupils, Eliana, Balraj, Swathy and Jai, took part in the National Young Mathematician Awards this term which are run by Explore Learning who run tuition classes across the UK. The team did absolutely brilliantly and their hard work and wonderful teamwork earned them a place in the second round of the competition.

Following on from the children's success in the competition we invited Alison and Liam, from Explore Learning, into school to run some mathematics workshops with Years 3, 5 and 6.

Year 3 investigated fractions through an interactive activity called 'Run your own restaurant'. Under the guidance of Alison and Liam the children held a survey on favourite pizzas, discussed quantities of ingredients and looked at measurements.

Year 5 investigated 3D shapes through an investigation task of creating their own computer game console. They had to think about which 3D shape would be best and why and then design the net.

In Year 6, they completed a challenge in groups. The key was to encourage stronger team work and enhance the children's ability to explain their understanding and thought process.

"It was fun, I liked the teamwork and how we all worked together. I want to do it again."

Aysha

"It was great fun and I learnt that fractions can be useful in running a business."

Lior

"We were upset to miss Art but happy when the workshop ended up being a mixture of Art and Maths."

Zara

"We could design a rival for the Xbox 360!"

Temi

"The maths workshop was fun and challenging. My team - fortunately finished the challenge and we were a good team. I had to explain a few things; but once everyone understood, we were on a roll!"

Charity support

We were delighted to have supported some fabulous charities during the Autumn term and, as a result of the children's significant efforts, and parents' generous support, managed to raise the following amounts:

Jeans for Genes Day: £285.45

Macmillan Cancer Care Coffee Morning: £190

Save the Children Christmas Jumper day: £130

Brenthurst House, sponsored reading for Noah's Ark: £332

And finally, Brinsdale House collected 25 sacks of clothes, books and toys for The British Heart Foundation.

Well done everyone!

Focus on... Reception.

When experimenting with colour, design and texture the children studied the work of innovative British artist Andy Goldsworthy; who uses a seemingly endless range of natural materials—snow, ice, leaves, bark, rock, clay, stones, feathers petals, twigs – to create outdoor sculptures. Before they disappear Andy records his work by taking magnificent photos. After looking at some of Andy’s work the children went outside to create their own masterpieces using natural materials.

During the autumn half term break the reception classroom got a wonderful makeover and the children, Mrs Platt and Mrs Kezunovic were delighted with their new space when they returned to school. Since then they have been incredibly busy decorating it and making it ‘their own’.

One of the children’s favourite projects this term was studying the solar system. The children were fascinated with the order of the planets and also the fact that the earth is the 3rd planet from the sun. They studied images of the planets on the white board and in books and then went outside to recreate the order of the planets in the playground; using paper and images of the planets. The children also built a spaceship for Q Pootle 5, the little alien character in the books by Nick Butterworth, and helped him to fix it when a problem arose. The children were very pleased with their success:

“That’s amazing”
Adam

In maths this term the children have been looking at the value of certain coins. To support their work in this area they went outside to ‘pay for parking’ in the playground using £1 and £2 coins. Unfortunately some of the children also learned about penalty charges when they overstayed their time!

The children also learnt all about 3D shapes in maths when they looked at cubes, cuboids, cylinders, cones and spheres. One of the children found a shape that has 12 hexagonal faces!

Starting full time school is an exciting time in a child’s life, but it can also be a daunting one. Fortunately for the Hendon Prep reception children Mrs Platt and Mrs Kezunovic understand what a big step this is for them and are on hand to help them settle into their new surroundings and routines quickly and gently. This year’s class have not only settled in brilliantly but they have hit the ground running, in what has been an incredibly busy term.

To support their communication and language development and specifically their understanding of positional language, focussing on words such as ‘over’, ‘under’, ‘around’; the children started the term reading the wonderful ‘Rosie’s Walk’. It is a lovely tale of a hen, Rosie, who takes a walk around the farmyard completely unaware that a fox is after her. Despite not noticing the fox Rosie manages to lead him into one accident after another. The children loved listening to the story and afterwards they retold it themselves by creating a 3D map and using small word materials.

At Hendon Prep physical education is just as important for our reception children as it is for our older children, and so we encourage all of our children to develop healthy routines associated with sport and exercise from the very beginning of their school journey. Alongside their usual weekly trip to Hendon Gym and their weekly dance class with Aaron, the reception children now also have an extra session of P.E. & Games on a Friday morning; led by our specialist sports provider, Non Stop Action. This term the children have focussed on improving their ball skills and agility.

FESTIVE FUN

Lights, Camel, Action!

This year's Pre Prep Christmas play was an absolute triumph! From line dancing cowboys, 'evil' judges and disco dancing shepherds to wonderful narrators, sheep, camels, inn-keepers, kings, angels and of course Mary, Joseph and a donkey; the show was 'strictly' fabulous. There was even a special guest appearance from the gorgeous Pre-School children who charmed the audience with their rendition of Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star.

Well done to everyone involved. All of the hard work most definitely paid off with both shows being completely sold out!

Turkey Lunch

Christmas lunch is always a highlight of the festive period for the children and staff and this year was no exception, we were all treated to roast turkey, with all the trimmings, Christmas pud, crackers and carols. Lunch may have taken slightly longer than usual but everyone was too busy enjoying themselves to care.

Carol Service

Hendon Prep's festive celebrations were brought to a close by the hugely well attended and absolutely beautiful Carol Service at St Mary's Church in Hendon which was led by Father Gwyn. The choir were truly amazing, as were the fabulous solo performers. We would also like to say a special thank you to Mrs Patel, Mrs Driscoll and Head Boy Ansh for their wonderful readings. Everyone left the service feeling very festive indeed.

Panto

We are very fortunate at Hendon Prep to have such a committed and involved parent body in our HPPG, who work incredibly hard throughout the year to support our school community and bring pupils, parents and staff together.

Every year the HPPG organise a wonderful pantomime for the children (oh yes they do!) and this year the children and teachers were treated to the very funny Beauty & the Beast'. The children laughed, booed and cheered their way through the production and goodness they were loud!

Party, Party!

Christmas at Hendon wouldn't be Christmas without a class party or a Christmas jumper! Pre-School kicked off the party season by inviting their parents to join them for their party. Parents joined in the fun decorating Christmas tree shapes, baubles and Hanukah candles and then the children entertained everyone with their beautiful renditions of 'When Santa got stuck up the chimney' and Twinkle, twinkle little star'.

The entire school was filled with music and laughter during the afternoon of the 12th December when the rest of the school held their class parties. The children were served party food in their classrooms, watched movies, danced and played party games including musical statues, pass the parcel, pin the nose on Rudolph and musical bumps

"I liked playing pin the nose on Rudolph"

Arisa Year 2

"It was fun being together as a year group"

Ethan Year 4

HPPG Christmas Bazaar

The festive season kicked off in style in this term with the fabulous HPPG Christmas Bazaar. With gorgeous jewellery to buy from Stella & Dot, toys and games from the Happy Puzzle Company, a book stall, raffle and of course plenty of cake, there was something for everyone!

Special congratulations to Livia in Year 5 who won an enormous jar of sweets by guessing the number of sweets in the jar – or rather she was closest with a guess of 150 when there were 147 sweets in the jar – so very close indeed! A massive thank you to our wonderful HPPG for organising this event.

And finally...

New for 2018; the Hendon Prep Award

January 2018 will see the launch of our new Hendon Prep Award. The Award will be a series of challenges, which seek to enrich a pupil's time at Hendon Prep. It is designed to provide opportunities for character building through a broad range of activities that will take the pupil outside their comfort zone and will be open to all children from Year 4 - 8. With challenges such as presenting to a large audience, this award will provide a unique talking point in interviews for senior schools and allow pupils to show the breadth of their character.
